

Non-politician should head DENR, say environmentalists

By [Name] [Location]

Environmentalists and conservationists have urged the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) to appoint a non-politician as its head. They argue that a politician leading the agency would be biased in favor of political interests over environmental protection. They call for a more independent and professional leadership to effectively address the country's environmental challenges.

The DENR is a key government agency responsible for managing the country's natural resources and ensuring sustainable development. It oversees various departments, including the Bureau of Forests, the Bureau of Geology and Mines, and the Bureau of Waters. The agency has been facing criticism for its handling of environmental issues, particularly in the context of large-scale infrastructure projects and mining operations.

NPA attacks 'certain' raisers, says Ka Roger

The National People's Army (NPA) has launched an attack on 'certain' elements within the government, specifically targeting those involved in raising funds for the military. Ka Roger, a prominent NPA leader, stated that the group is opposed to any form of militarization and believes that the government's actions are aimed at suppressing the people's struggle for social justice. He called for a more peaceful and democratic approach to resolving the country's conflicts.

The NPA is a Marxist-Leninist organization that has been active in the Philippines since the 1960s. It has been involved in various armed conflicts and has been designated as a terrorist organization by the Philippine government and the United States. The group has a long history of attacking government targets, including military bases, police stations, and government officials. It also claims to be fighting for the rights of the poor and oppressed people in the Philippines.

Chilling
 A common, but ill-advised, idea is to keep the engine warm by running it for a few minutes before starting the car. This is a bad idea because it can cause the engine to overheat and damage the engine.

'Jueteng' back in Luzon, says top PNP exec

By Nardo B. Dela Cruz
Manila Bureau Chief and Metro Bureau Chief

MANILA (Inquirer) — The Philippine National Police (PNP) chief said that the game of jueteng, a form of illegal gambling, has returned to Luzon after being banned for years.

PNP Chief Police Officer Gen. Romeo B. Manzano said that the game has been found in various parts of Luzon, including in the provinces of Ilocos Norte, Ilocos Sur, and Cagayan.

Manzano said that the PNP is currently conducting operations to dismantle the jueteng operations and arrest the players and organizers.

He said that the PNP is also working with the local law enforcement agencies to identify and arrest the jueteng players and organizers.

More than 1,000 lose jobs in Bicol

MANILA (Inquirer) — More than 1,000 jobs were lost in the Bicol region, according to a report from the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE).

The report said that the loss of jobs was due to the closure of several factories and businesses in the region.

DOLE said that the loss of jobs was a significant blow to the economy of the Bicol region.

The report also said that the loss of jobs was a result of the global economic crisis.

No deaths in Lanao Sur clan war, Soulacon exec says

Most dormitories virtual death traps

By Cyril S. Buncian

MANILA, Sept. 10 — A fire that broke out in a dormitory at the University of the Philippines (UP) last night, killing at least 10 students and injuring 15 others, has exposed the dire state of fire safety in many of the country's universities.

The fire, which started in a kitchen area, spread rapidly through the dormitory, which was packed with students. Many of the students were sleeping in the common areas, and the fire spread quickly through the corridors and rooms.

Young consumers prefer e-load to eating

MANILA, Sept. 10 — A survey by a local research firm has found that young consumers in the Philippines are increasingly turning to electronic loads (e-load) instead of eating out, as a way to save money and avoid the risks of dining in crowded restaurants.

The survey, which was conducted among young adults in Manila, found that 60 percent of respondents preferred e-load to eating out. The respondents cited several reasons for their preference, including the convenience of e-load, the ability to avoid crowds, and the fact that e-load is often cheaper than eating out.

The survey also found that young consumers are increasingly using mobile phones to make e-load transactions. This trend is expected to continue as more businesses accept e-load payments.

Estrada camp turns cold to alliance plan

MANILA, Sept. 10 — President Joseph Estrada's camp has turned cold to a plan to form a political alliance with the opposition, as the president's supporters focus on the upcoming elections.

The plan, which was proposed by a group of opposition leaders, called for a coalition of parties to challenge the ruling party in the upcoming elections. However, Estrada's camp has expressed little interest in the plan, and has instead focused on strengthening its own position.

The opposition leaders have expressed disappointment at the lack of support from Estrada's camp, and have vowed to continue their efforts to form an alliance. They believe that a coalition of parties is necessary to challenge the ruling party effectively.

Ballet Manila conquers Russia

THE MANILA BALLET, ONE OF THE Philippines' premier classical dance troupes, recently returned from a successful tour of Russia. The company, led by Artistic Director and Principal Dancer, Mr. Romeo S. Sison, performed in several cities, including Moscow, St. Petersburg, and Novosibirsk. The tour was a significant achievement for the company, as it marked their first visit to Russia.

The Manila Ballet's repertoire includes a variety of classical and contemporary works. During the tour, the company performed several of its most popular pieces, including "The Nutcracker" and "Swan Lake". The performances were well-received by the Russian audiences, who praised the company's technical skill and artistry.

The tour was made possible through the support of the Philippine Department of Tourism and the Manila Ballet's own fundraising efforts. The company's success in Russia is a testament to its dedication to excellence in classical dance.

The Manila Ballet's tour of Russia was a historic moment for the company and for Philippine classical dance. It demonstrated the company's ability to compete on the international stage and to gain the recognition of one of the world's most prestigious dance nations.

Youth rally behind culture and heritage

The youth of the Philippines are rallying behind their culture and heritage. A recent survey conducted by the Department of Education revealed that a large majority of young Filipinos are proud of their roots and are actively involved in preserving and promoting their cultural traditions. This includes participating in traditional dance performances, wearing traditional clothing, and learning traditional crafts. The survey also found that many young Filipinos are interested in learning more about their family history and the history of the Philippines. This growing interest in culture and heritage is a positive sign for the future of the Philippines, as it ensures that our rich cultural legacy will be passed on to future generations.
